Don’t Become a Victim Tonight!

Late Night Cruising: Is it Worth Dying For?

10-1882 (9/10)
It’s not safe to loiter in crowds late at night.

- Don’t participate in late night cruising, drifting or illegal mass crowds.
- Loitering in large crowds during late night hours can lead to serious and violent crimes such as shootings, stabbings, robberies and carjackings.
- Late night ad hoc gatherings have resulted in two deaths and several shootings.
- It’s illegal to loiter in parking lots of closed businesses.

If you still choose to gather:

- Stay alert to your surroundings.
- Learn to recognize unsafe conditions.
- If you see suspicious activity, contact police.
- Avoid any physical or verbal confrontation.
- If you are robbed at gunpoint, cooperate and give the robber what he/she wants.
- Get a description of the robber and the type of weapon used.
- If you have information about a crime, call Crimeline at 1-800-423-TIPS (8477).
- For all police emergencies call 9-1-1.
